

What you may not know:

Addiction affects individuals with diabetes too, and the consequences are quite dangerous...

Too Dangerous to Keep Quiet: Diabetes and Addiction

Are you, or is someone you care about, living with diabetes and struggling with an alcohol or drug problem? Sadly, this combination is common... and quite dangerous. Problems with hypoglycemia and hyperglycemia are more likely and this may contribute to long-term complications of diabetes. Addiction can add to the feelings of isolation and loneliness that sometimes goes with diabetes. And people with diabetes may not feel comfortable discussing drug and alcohol problems with their doctors, family or friends.

Please join us for some honest discussion and hear from others who have struggled with this problem. This is a new, FREE discussion group.

FREE!
Please Join Us!

new!
discussion group

Diabetes and Addiction

FREE Discussion Group - No Registration Required!

Diabetes and Addiction

March 3, 2009 — Tuesday 6:30 to 8:30pm

The Whittier Institute for Diabetes
Scripps Memorial Hospital
9894 Genesee Avenue, La Jolla, CA, 92037